CAUSE OF VIRGINIA'S DEATH IS TOLD BY WITNESSES IN COURT

ATTACK COULD HAVE BEEN CAUSE OF FATAL INJURY

WOMEN JAM COURT TO HEAR TESTIMONY OF EXPERTS.

DESCRIBE BRUISES

Rupture of Vital Organ Fatal to Actress, Doctors Declare.

San Francisco.—The spot light of testimony again Friday turned toward the tragedy of Virginia Rappe, film actress, to determine whether Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, film comedian, will be tried on the charge of murder or the charge of manslaughter, in connection with the girl's death. It is charged Miss Rappe suffered fatal injury from Arbuckle while she was his guest at a drinking party at the Hotel St. Francis, here September 5 last.

Arbuckle Friday afternoon was brought to court, where he held without bail, in a preliminary hearing, which will decide whether he shall be held to answer to the superior court on the murder charge or on the manslaughter charge. A grand jury indictment already returned accuses him of manslaughter.

The first session of Arbuckle's preliminary hearing, held late Thursday, was adjourned without his attorneys having asked a question in cross examination, or giving any indication of what their plans for his defense might be.

Attorneys of the district attorney's office said they had expected the defense to occupy considerable time in cross examination and that the judge would probably put on the stand before Friday.

The testimony of the three prosecution witnesses already before the court, a nurse, two doctors, and a maid, observed bruises on Miss Rappe's arms and body.

The two doctors said death was due to a ruptured bladder and that the organ probably injured by external force.

Tells of Bruises. Dr. Shelby Strange, who performed the autopsy on the body of Miss Rappe, said he found bruises on the left arm and that on the left arm there was a scar which might have been caused by a hypodermic needle.

Great crowds attended Thursday's court session. Police guarded the court adjacent to the court room. Spectators were in the main, women, the hearing being held in Judge Lamm's courtroom.

The court on Thursday's morning told while he was flying more than 130 miles an hour at a height of 650 feet and the plane fell.

Captain De Rochemont's world record for speed was established Nov. 4 last, when he flew over a measured kilometer at the rate of 200 kilometers per hour (about 125 miles).

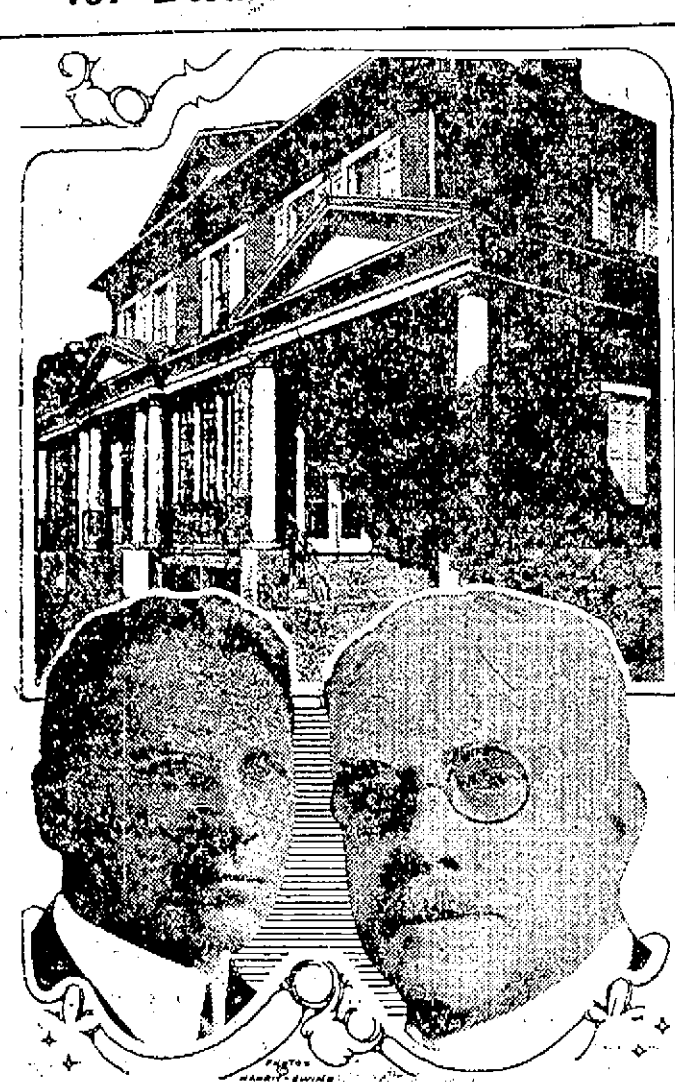

TO ATTEND FUNERAL. Knights of Columbus will meet Friday night at the rooms to make arrangements for attending the funeral of John Kuhl, a former member of the lodge. They will also go to the Kuhl home to view the body.

Washington Is Getting Ready for Disarmament Conference

Washington is preparing to receive and entertain the foreign diplomats who will attend the disarmament conference which will open Sept. 21. Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of Gen. Logan, has offered the use of her Washington home for a reception or similar gathering in honor of the delegates. Commissioner Cuno H. Rudolph has been named chairman of the citizens' committee named to provide comfort and entertainment for the delegates.

When the federal grand jury is called in Madison Monday United States Attorney William H. Donnell and his assistant will determine whether an investigation is to be made on the alleged wholesale manufacture of illicit liquor in Dane county and Madison.

Allegations have been made that Italians in and near Madison have flagrantly and constantly violated the prohibition law and a federal investigation is being demanded.

The state authorities and city police have declared the federal investigation is being demanded.

Need of Enforcement. "I would have the ordinance stricken off the law book than to see it there and not enforced," declared Dr. Fred D. Welch, city health officer. One farmer may spend his money and time to clean up conditions on his farm and follow the ordinance increasing the food supply and the farmer across the road pay no attention to the law. This is unfair to the farmer who obeys the ordinance.

"Doctors' Are Full." The municipal court dockets in Beloit and Janesville are jammed with moonshine cases with the notation that the defendant wants a jury trial. That means preparation of a case for the district attorney and a day or more in court for each case.

In Beloit Thursday there were so many cases on the docket, many of them had to be adjourned. Three cases were up for preliminary examination and one woman for trial, besides a long list of plain drunk cases.

With each one waiting a jury trial district attorney G. C. Dunwiddie is a "busy" man.

Missing Since Seek Freshman, Class Battle

For Associated Press. Evanston, Ill.—Evanston police and students of Northwestern university Friday were searching for Leighton Mount, freshman, missing since the class fight between freshmen and sophomores Wednesday night. His parents fear he has been the victim of hazing. University officials have started an investigation of the clash following the rescue of a student from a building on the lake front, where he had been tied, head down.

JEALOUS WOMAN SHOOT DAUGHTER OF MANUFACTURER

WOULDBE SLAYER THEN TAKES OWN LIFE WITH BULLET.

GIRL TO RECOVER

Attack Occurs in Doorway of Apartment in Presence of Escort.

New York.—Miss Mildred Hansen, said by the police to be a daughter of the late Alfred P. Hansen, wealthy manufacturer, was shot three times, early Friday, as she was emerging from an apartment house in Brooklyn with John S. Borland, an important.

Mrs. Grace Lawes, who fired the shots, then ended her own life by firing a bullet into her brain.

Miss Hansen is in a hospital and refused to discuss the shooting.

According to the police, Borland said Mrs. Lawes stepped out of the shadows as he and Miss Hansen emerged from the apartment where they had been visiting a friend, and fired the shots.

Jealousy Held Case. He attributed the shooting, police said, to jealousy, admitting that he had quarreled with Mrs. Lawes recently over Miss Hansen.

Miss Hansen's condition was reported critical but not necessarily fatal.

Borland said he had gone to Brooklyn Thursday afternoon with Miss Hansen to help her seek a new apartment. They had ended with a visit to Miss Dorothy Gottschalk, a friend. They left the apartment about 1:25 a. m., he said, and encountered Mrs. Lawes as they stepped out the street.

Lawes drew a pistol and fired. She then stood for a moment regarding them, Borland said. Then she uttered a scream, pressed the muzzle of the pistol against her head and fired.

Mrs. Lawes, who is a daughter of Mrs. M. E. Dillman of San Francisco, was a distant relative of Miss Hansen. For four years she had lived with Mrs. Hansen and the latter was in an apartment in the exclusive Park Avenue district of Manhattan.

Girl Will Testify to Help Arbuckle

JEANNE (DOLLY) CLARK.

She says she will give evidence to assist Roscoe Arbuckle in obtaining his freedom from the charge of murdering Virginia Rappe.

Seek Loan of $6,500 to Build Joint School

Residents in the district where the Frances Willard school is located south of this city have started negotiations to obtain a $6,500 loan from the state to build a new school building. The new school located a half mile west of the concrete road will be a one room brick building and thoroughly modern in construction and equipment.

A great difference from the old Frances Willard school.

$220,000 WORTH OF LOCOMOTIVES HELD AT TIME OF BLAZE

Locomotives valued at close to a quarter of a million dollars were in the St. Paul roundhouse Saturday afternoon at the time of the blaze that did from $2,500 to $3,000 damage.

There were 11 engines in the stalls at the time.

The St. Paul engines vary in value from $20,000 to $35,000 each according to a report made by Supt. J. A. Macdonald to Chief Con. J. Murphy showing the total value of the building's contents at that time as $220,000.

The roundhouse itself is valued at $16,000. Both the building and contents were fully insured.

"Had it not been for that fire, Janesville would doubtless have had one of the largest, the losses that year in history," said Chief Murphy.

KIWANIS BACK PROPOSED DRIVE

Unanimous and wholehearted support of the Kiwanis club was given at the weekly meeting Thursday for the Janesville Y. M. C. A. campaign to be conducted the week of Oct. 3.

Mrs. Ben Hooper spoke for 15 minutes on the world disarmament conference at Washington. An act of vandalism from the Myers theater furnished the entertainment.

DRIVER RUNS TRUCK INTO PHONE POLE

A truck driven by the City Ice company and owned by Ernest Turner, plumed into a telephone pole at South Third street, near the intersection of South Main, Thursday night, doing minor damage to the front of the machine. Turner had just returned from a trip to Beloit in the truck. The police made an investigation but no arrests were made.

SURPLUS OF FARM HELP, 50 GET JOBS

Having helped more than 50 men in the last two weeks, County Agent K. T. Glasco on Friday stated there are now more applicants for farm work than there are jobs listed.

There is a good class of farm help on the list, wanting jobs by the month," advised the county agent. "We can supply farmers with men at wages from $35 to $45 a month."

COMMITTEE VOTES FAVORABLE REPORT ON PEACE TREATY

BORAH CASTS ONLY BALLOT AGAINST REPORT.

HIRAM VOTES 'YEA'

Report Covers Recommendation on German, Austrian and Hungarian Pacts.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Washington.—Favorable report on the peace treaties between the United States and Germany, Austria and Hungary was ordered Friday by the committee on foreign relations, senate republicans, Idaho, leader of the fight against the treaty of Versailles, was the only member to vote against reporting the treaties.

Before reporting the three pacts, the committee adopted a reservation requiring that congress pass an act for appointment of an American representative on all allied commissions by the president with the advice and consent of the senate.

Reservation Adopted. A reservation adopted by the committee, presented by Senator Pomerehne, democrat, Ohio, provided that protection given the allied governments in the property interests should apply also to American nationals.

The vote on reporting the treaties favorably was nine to one, the supporters of the treaties leading the vote. The republicans voted for the treaties and three democrats, all of the members present except Senator Borah, who cast the sole negative vote.

The republicans voted for the treaties and three democrats, all of the members present except Senator Borah, who cast the sole negative vote.

Senator Johnson of California, who was allied with Senator Borah in the fight against the treaties, disagreed with Senator Borah's contention that the treaties were likely to involve this nation in European affairs. The resolution of ratification of the German treaty within the reservation as finally evolved, provides:

"Resolved, that the senate advise and consent to the ratification of the treaty between the United States and Germany, Austria and Hungary, 1919, to restore the friendly relations existing between the two nations prior to the outbreak of the war, subject to the understanding which is hereby made a part of this resolution of ratification, that the United States shall not be represented or participate in any league, agency or commission which may be organized or established by the United States as a member of any body, agency or commission in which the United States is not authorized to participate by this treaty, unless and until an act of congress of the United States shall provide for such representation or participation."

Resolutions of ratification and reservations as adopted for the Austrian and Hungarian treaties were similar.

Senator Borah indicated that he would carry his fight against ratification to the senate floor where debate is expected to begin within a few days.

A $1,000 CIVIL ACTION. Papers have been filed in the Rock county circuit court in a judgment suit by Dr. E. H. Buckman against George Stoen. The judgment demanded amounts to $1,035.40.

GIVES WORLD SERIES TICKET MONEY TO AID UNEMPLOYED

New York.—Urban Ledoux—the Mr. Zero of the auction block—has opened his plans for helping the jobless by starting negotiations for the lease of a five story building on Front street capable of housing and feeding 1,000 men.

He hopes to have the churches throw open their halls to the unemployed and is planning to call on Bishop Manning of the Episcopal diocese of New York with this purpose in mind. He began bright and early to recruit an army of human exhibits to show the churchman that his proteges were worthy of aid.

The Rev. Clifton Magoon, pastor of All Souls' church, Thursday sent to a newspaper a check for the amount which he had planned to pay for tickets for the coming world's series and asked that the money be used to feed hungry men and women.

He said he had been a baseball fan for years, but his conscience would not permit him to use the money to buy tickets for the series when the unemployed were unable to get enough to eat. He intends later to give for aid of the unemployed the money he had planned to spend on a hunting trip next month. He suggested a world's series between teams finishing second be held for the aid of the unemployed.

Hurled 100 Feet by Fast Train; Injuries Slight

Rammed broadside by a fast Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger train at the first Delavan road crossing a mile east of Janesville and hurled 100 feet through the air with his car over a 10-foot embankment, S. Hoffman, Chicago, escaped with a deep gash in his left leg, lacerations of the right leg and a sprained back, Friday morning.

Hoffman, a flour and feed salesman, is said to have been racing the train for a half mile. While attempting to dash across the tracks in front of the ill-fated engine of the Ford sedan he was driving went dead and the automobile stopped directly in the path of the speeding train.

Car Is Demolished. The auto was picked up on the front of the locomotive, whirled through space and deposited in hundreds of pieces in the ditch to the left of the tracks. Hoffman miraculously landed upon the soft cushions of the seat in a patch of soft grass.

Both train and motor car were speeding eastward from Janesville. The engineer, James Dunn, declared that he expected Hoffman to stop at the crossing but when he saw the autoist heading around the slight curve and up the grade, he was too late. According to the description given by the train crew, the bottom part of the sedan was carried from under Hoffman and he was shot out of the car with the back of the seat.

Picked Up Unconscious. When picked up, Hoffman was unconscious. He retained his senses on his way to Mercy hospital, started around blankly and asked: "What happened? Where am I?" The injured man was placed upon the train and rushed back to Janesville where the police ambulance was in waiting and raced him to Mercy hospital. Dr. Frank Fennell, St. Paul railroad physician, reported Hoffman's injuries were slight.

The train No. 142, which left Janesville at 10:40 was delayed until 11:30. Hoffman had upon his trade here Friday morning.

Governor's New Sedan Wrecked

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Madison.—The governor's new sedan was wrecked last night on a bridge over the Rock river, five miles east of Watertown. Sanford Reque, the chauffeur, was thrown from his seat and bruised, although not seriously. The car was wrecked on a steep bank and crumpled on the side of the bridge.

Governor Blaine was not in the car, which was being driven to Madison after being repaired in Milwaukee.

FIND DECOMPOSED BODY OF MAN WHO VANISHED IN 1916

Starke, Ind.—The decomposed body of Martin Curran, who disappeared five years ago, was found Thursday in a quarry by Herman Tagge, a duck hunter. Identity was made by the clothing he wore, a watch and dental work.

Garmody disappeared in 1916 after becoming ill. Cleve leading to parts of Wisconsin and Michigan proved unsuccessful in locating him, who made the identification that his mind became unbalanced, due to illness.

$257,000 SHORTAGE IN ACCOUNTS; BANK CASHIER INDICTED

Portland, Me.—Robert L. Bean, cashier of the Megallowick National bank of Camden, was arraigned here Friday on a $257,000 indictment returned by the grand jury in the federal district court. Miss Ella M. Mackay, a bookkeeper in the bank, was indicted on the charge that she aided Bean.

COLLEGE ROSTER SLIGHTLY LARGER

Milton Reopens With New Instructors; Music School in New Home.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Milton college began its 54th year Thursday with a slightly greater enrollment than a year ago, when the attendance was the largest in the history of the institution. Although no official registration figures have been announced, Prof. W. D. Burdick, new college registrar, said Thursday that 113 have been registered in the department of liberal arts. The number will be increased within the next few days by several students who have registered temporarily by mail or otherwise.

The school of music, in which approximately 100 persons are expected to enroll before the week is over, will be housed in the new quarters, a large brick building standing upon an eminence above the main part of the campus, has been remodeled and converted into a conservatory of music, with separate studios for the various teachers of vocal and instrumental music. Miss Alberta Crandall, who was forced to take a trip to classes last spring and health, will again head the school of music and teach classes in piano, voice, history of music, harmony and modern compositions. She will also have charge of the college choir, the girls' glee club, Herater, Mrs. Ellen Place Crandall, formerly of Milwaukee, has been appointed violin instructor, a position which she held in the college several years ago. Prof. L. H. Stinger will again teach voice culture, and direct the Men's Glee Club.

The administration of Milton college this year is in the hands of Prof. Alfred E. Whitford, for many years head of the department of physics and mathematics, who will serve as acting president until the trustees procure a successor for Dr. William C. Daland, former president, who died early this summer at a sanitarium in Battle Creek, Mich. Prof. Whitford was acting president last spring during the illness of Dr. Daland.

Mohr Succeeds Harbour
Dr. Charles A. Mohr, formerly of the University of Chicago faculty, is the new head of the departments of philosophy and education. He succeeded Prof. H. M. Harbour, who resigned at the end of last year. Several other changes have been made in the personnel of the faculty. Miss Amy Van Horn, formerly of Alfred University, N. Y., is substituting in the department of biology for Prof. F. G. Hall, who in 1920 was granted leave of absence for two years to take special studies at the University of Wisconsin.

Lawyer To Teach Law
Classes in civics and economics, which in former years have been conducted by a member of the history department, will be taught this year by A. E. Carey, Edgerton, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin law school and a practicing attorney. This year Milton has a new department of physical education, headed by George H. Crandall, '14. In addition to coaching football, baseball and other athletic teams, Crandall will have charge of the men's and women's gymnasium classes and will offer courses in physical education, calisthenics and athletic subjects. The department of physical education will give instruction similar to that offered in coaching schools at such universities as Illinois, Michigan and Indiana.

Conches Are in Demand
To many college men, though perfectly capable athletes themselves, do not know how to teach others to be successful in sports. Coach Crandall said Thursday in explaining the course in which he is offering for prospective coaches. This department aims to give college men practical experience in training athletic teams, so that they will have to contend with coaches and physical directors in high schools. Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations after graduation, they will be familiar with modern methods of coaching and suffer through a period of greenness. There is always a good demand for college graduates who can teach in high schools and at the same time coach athletic teams.

Large Freshman Class
The enrollment according to classes is 43 in the freshmen class; 29 in the sophomore class; and 14 each in the Junior and Senior classes. In addition to these taking regular college work, there are 11 special students taking sub-freshman work.

All students were assembled at the chapel exercises Thursday morning to hear Prof. A. E. Whitford, acting president who extended the greetings on behalf of the faculty.

FIX PROGRAM FOR SOLDIER AID SQUAD
Headquarters to be at Post Office Here for 5 Days.

The postoffice in Janesville has been designated as the headquarters for the new risk insurance bureau's "clean-up" squad which will be here October 1-5 inclusive, to aid ex-service men or the world war in straightening out their claims for disability compensation. The "clean-up" squad will aid men from both Rock and Green counties.

To ease the work and enable the officers to give more attention to each individual, the following dates have been set:
Oct. 1—For Deloit men.
Oct. 2—For Janesville men.
Oct. 3—For Green county men.
Oct. 4—For all Rock or Green county men who are unable to be present on either of the other three days.

The "clean-up" squad will confine its efforts to claims, old or new, dealing with compensation, insurance, hospitalization, and vocational training. It will consist of a doctor, an insurance man, and a vocational training man, besides a representative of the Red Cross and a local American legion man.

Get Data Prepared
All men desiring to see the squad are instructed to bring their discharge papers and all correspondence they may have had with the war risk bureau. For information prior to the squad's coming, they are urged to report to their local Red Cross chapters, where they can receive considerable help that will enable them to receive better attention from the squad.

While a medical examiner will be with the squad, he will be unable to personally examine or re-examine all men. He will read every case and make recommendations through oral examination and arrange for such examination as may be needed by the local examiner of the bureau or by other medical experts.

Contrary to previous reports, men from outlying districts will not be furnished transportation. They must pay their own railroad fare. However, if a man is awarded hospitalization or is sent to some other city for examination by a specialist, then his fare will be paid.

Desire Clinics in Chicago
Ex-service men are informed that claims will not be paid by the squad. They are authorized only to make recommendations. The recommendations will be sent to the division office at Chicago, where final decision can now be made without having to send the information gathered to Washington.

This information was given by Miss Frances Brayton, field representative of the central division of the American Red Cross, at a meeting Wednesday of American Legion and Red Cross representatives of this city at the postoffice. Miss Brayton held a similar meeting in Deloit Wednesday night, and one in Monroe Thursday.

Glance over the people who appear in this tremendous production. Consider their salaries alone, not to mention the cost of scenery of this massive production.

One Dozen Paramount Stars in One Picture.

But the vital purpose of our advertisement is to bring home the fact that the Myers Theatre is playing these big, new productions all the time. This picture, not released until this coming Monday, is to play at the Myers within six weeks of its first release. Think of it. Southern Wisconsin theatre-goers are now witnessing the big photoplays right hot from the studios.

Right now one of the big Paramount features is playing at the Myers—Mae Murray in "The Gilded Lily." There is a Paramount feature here every day—every Myers photoplay is a Paramount feature and you see it along with our big vaudeville bill and concert orchestra. This advertisement will bring home forcefully to you the vital, outstanding fact that the Myers Theatre Management is doing something worth-while for Janesville.

ORIGINAL ACTION ALLOWED MILK CO.

Supreme Court Grants Permission for Test of Filled Milk Law.

Madison—The supreme court Friday granted the application of the Carnation Milk company to start an original action in the name of the state, contesting constitutionality of the filled milk law passed by the last legislature. The law would prohibit manufacture and sale of milk compounds in Wisconsin, where practically all of these compounds are made.

It is expected the contest over the new law, which goes into effect Sept. 27, will be brought before the court at an early date. Announcement has been made by attorneys for the milk company that this is but the start of a fight which will be carried to the supreme court if the state court holds the law valid.

Farmers of Wisconsin are particularly interested in the action. Thousands of petitions from them, during the legislative contest over the original bill, brought about passage with but small opposition in the assembly and with a unanimous vote in the senate.

Return from West—Joseph Hill, 207 St. Mary's avenue, has returned from an extended trip to the west. He spent two months with relatives in Seattle, Wash., and Victoria, Canada.

Give Tre-Nuptial Party—Mrs. Joseph Lusig, Jr., 621 North Garfield avenue, gave an afternoon card party and tea Thursday. It was complimentary to Miss Agnes Webster, whose marriage will take place next month. At cards, Miss Webster was presented with a special gift. At five o'clock, tea was served in two courses with dancing. The dining room was decorated with a little bow in the center, and the centerpiece. Twelve young women were entertained.

Luncheon at Club—Mrs. H. S. Loveloy, 58 Jackson street, has given an invitation for a one o'clock luncheon Saturday. It will be held at the Country club.

To Meet Friday—The Jefferson Girls Reserves will meet at the Y. W. C. A. rooms at the close of the last Friday afternoon. This is the last of the reserves, that have not been organized and the fall work will begin in earnest with the meetings starting next week.

Has Card Club—Mrs. R. A. Seligson, 15 Cherry street, invited the members of a club to be her guests Thursday. Five hundred was played. The prizes being taken up by Mesdames William Mayford, Frank and Lester Fichter, Miss Edna Beardsley and Miss Fern Constance chaperoned the party.

Party for SA's—The girls of the SA class of the high school were entertained after school Thursday at the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Most of these girls were members of one of the Reserve societies last year. Games were played and pop-corn was served.

Evans Behind; Poor Putts May Cost Him Title

Washington—Advances of $15,000, 000 for agricultural purposes, announced Thursday by the war finance corporation, will be made available to grain growers having membership in the Equity Co-operative Exchange operating in Minnesota and North and South Dakota, officials said. Friday The Equity Co-operative Exchange has its main offices at St. Paul, Fargo and Superior.

The agreement entered into between the corporation and the exchange was said by officials Friday to provide that not more than fifteen million dollars will be made available to assist exchange members in the three states in marketing their wheat crop. The credit will be available for use as soon as the crop is in warehouse and can be placed as security for the actual loans.

The agreement, officials said, is the result of a long and arduous fight for the farmers of the three states.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Jensen will leave soon to spend the winter in New Mexico. Mr. Jensen has been receiving treatment at Stevens Point for disability resulting from army service.

FALL OPENING IS GREAT SUCCESS

Large Crowds at Style Show—Slogan Results Next Week.

"Saturday night" crowds paraded the streets of Janesville Thursday night taking in the style show of the annual fall opening of the local stores. With superb weather for the occasion, the crowds were larger than for the last two years.

Unveiling of the windows took place simultaneously at 7:30. Beautiful displays featured in abundance. A live model at the Varsity Clothing company drew hundreds of admirers.

The Bowler club band alternated playing in front of every store. The concert was of as much interest as the window shows.

Results in the slogan contest will not be made public until next week. It is announced. Answers were being received Friday.

Actual fall sales commenced Friday and will be continued until Saturday night.

CEMETERY ASS'N TO VOTE ON PAVING.
Final decision on the proposed laying of a concrete drive from the road to the chapel in the Oak Hill cemetery will be reached at a meeting of the directors of the Oak Hill cemetery association at 3 p. m. ## Pupils Pledge Full Support to J. H. S. Eleven Enthusiastic support of the high school football team this year was pledged by the student body at a mass meeting Friday morning following the talk by football men who scored the spirit of the students in the past and asked for a solid backing in making the team winning one. Principal George Bassford presided.

Coch Coach Reynar stated that the combined efforts of all men would not win football games without the support of the entire student body. He declared the spirit of the freshmen and sophomores is poor and that more men from these classes should come out for football, even though they have never played.

The most frank speaker was Dr. Leigh Woodworth, former coach and football player. He pointed out the morale of the school, saying that the morale of the school is poor. He said that when he went to Janesville high school, the school had a creditable team and today when there are twice as many students it should be twice as good. He said that the students could either make the team or break it.

E. J. Hunsman said there is no game which develops the spirit and courage of the following the teams of universities get, pointing to Fort Atkinson as a town which was put on the map by its football team. Supt. E. O. Holt spoke and secured the pledge of every student to support the team. John Austin led the cheers.

REGISTERED DOG, WORTH $50, POISONED

Another valuable dog was lost by poisoning, when the cocker spaniel owned by Miss Constance Beatin, 417 North Terrace street, died Thursday. A member of the family saw the dog pick up some meat thrown into a neighbor's yard and eat it. He was dead 20 minutes after. He was claimed to have been worth $50 and had been registered in the American Kennel club, New York city. He is the fourth dog in this neighborhood to die by poisoning.

THE GAZETTE'S PLATFORM

Build a Community Center and Convention hall for the use of the people, and have it belong to the whole city. This is a part of the plan for the year around. Complete the city plan. Make more small parks and playgrounds and provide at least one place where the whole people may recreate at will.
Camp for auto tourists coming to Janesville and the surrounding area.
Erect a permanent memorial for the soldiers of the World War, suitable and convenient to all and all other American wars in a public place.
Finish the paving of Janesville streets and complete the sewer system.
Make all main highways into city of concrete to connect with good pavements in Janesville.
Keep the city looking bright and clean with paint and the streets free from filth.
Either build a new hotel or increase the facilities of the present hotels as to take care of the traveling public and be able to handle the school at an early date and give the children proper educational facilities.
Remember that the United States became the refuge of all peoples because here one might believe it, think and act his religion without fear of law or be made to answer to a court for his belief and form of worship.
The Constitution of the United States in its Bill of Rights provides that:
Congress shall make no law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.
And being prohibited by the Constitution of the United States, how then can any individual or set of individuals set themselves up to be the arbiters of men's belief, faith, religion, form and method of worship, or permit any institution to interfere with these rights under the constitution?
They run drivers with alcohol in Cuba. Here alcohol drives the drivers right into police court.

THE KU KLUX KLAN BUFFOONERY.

Buffoonery is the one word that covers the Ku Klux Klan piffle and nonsense. There is little to stimulate excitement in the revived repulsive purposes, the graveyard regalia, childish diablerie, Mother Goose gibberish ritual, and the bigoted nother expressed in a butchered English language, displaying crass ignorance, hostile mystery and ghost story tommyrot of the old organization that scared the ignorant negro into its following the Civil war.
The Ku Klux has been taken seriously, but its adventure to say, that once it is left alone and its dupes get no advertising, it will soon fade and die. Back of it is the ignorant assaults of Tom Watson, now senator from Georgia, who thinks Jeff Davis is still in office, and that to be bigoted is to be a genius. There is no sympathy with the suckers who bite at the bait and pay dues to make the originator rich.
You can sell a worthless stock certificate to otherwise sane people, just as one may sell a night shirt and mask, with a lot of dark intimidating oaths and have a setting just right to attract the regular "joiners." The timid may be honestly disturbed and the politician who has hopes of coining friendships get visibly upset. This official recognition gives the Ku Klux a sense of importance far beyond its deserts. It is a social and civic clown now. It will make a few rich men and pass out of existence like roller skating and the measles when one is 50. The salacious opposition has made its propagandists chesty and filled them with egotism. Unfed on advertising they will die. His facet. So let the wild ass of the southern desert feed himself to death on thistles.
As a place of scenic beauty at 50 cents a load, the gravel pit may lose its charm for the taxpaying citizen.

PERSONAL AMBITION MUST GET OUT OF THE WAY OF SUCCESS.

Definite steps have been taken for the organization of the republican party of the state by the naming of a committee of seven members of the legislature to appoint a committee of 22—two members from each congressional district—for the purpose of calling an election to a state conference of a large mass of republicans at an early date.
That committee is made of:
Senator Anton Kuehn, Shawano county.
Senator George B. Skogmo, Pierce county.
Senator George Czerwinski, Milwaukee county.
Assemblyman A. E. Matheson, Rock county.
Assemblyman F. H. Fowler, La Crosse county.
Assemblyman W. H. Edwards, Waukesha county.
Assemblyman W. B. Kaufman, Sheboygan county.
This action is something definite, sharply defined and appealing. Action is wanted and will be had, it is believed, from this first step taken Thursday.
There has been injected into this situation however, a note of discord by remnants of the democratic leadership.
They have been able to sufficiently impress a very few men in the republican ranks with the possibility of joint action, as to suggest an Independent Voters League, and act entirely outside either republican or democratic ranks. In the first place an Independent movement would be suicidal. In the second place it would surrender the republican party to the nonpartisan league and thirdly, there is no man willing to lead it, big enough to command other than curious attention.
Wisconsin is a republican state. Its enormous hardworking vote, the practical annihilation of the democratic party, the decrease in the socialist

A PERMANENT GAME SUPPLY

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—This fall season when five or six million Americans will shoulder their guns and go hunting, many thousands will make money as guides and hosts to sportsmen, and many millions who do not go afield will encourage sportsmen's organizations, and push a campaign for a permanent system of game protection by game sanctuaries.
The situation in this country is that wild fowl and other migratory game birds have been increasing greatly in the past few years as the result of a Federal law giving them protection throughout their journeys up and down the continent, but the protection of our other game is by no means adequate. It is true that many states have improved their game laws, but many have not. Some species of game are increasing in some places, but on the whole, game other than migratory birds is barely holding its own, while some valuable species are threatened with extermination. Meanwhile the army of hunters grows every year.
This decreased game supply is sheer waste. The country could support perhaps three or four times as much game as it does. That would mean just three or four times as much food and sport as we now get from our wild lands. Not to bring them to the highest state of productivity by proper restriction now is as foolish as picking the fruit before it is ripe. And the thing is especially worth doing because the hunting in this country can never be monopolized by a wealthy few, but must always remain a source of health, pleasure and food for all the people. The great and growing areas which are included in national and state parks and forest reserves insure this.

The plan now being urged is the creation of game sanctuaries in these forest reserves, where hunting will be prohibited, predatory animals destroyed and game protected. From these sanctuaries game will naturally overflow the surrounding country, making of the forest reserve in which it is situated a well stocked public shooting ground. In addition to this, game protected in the sanctuaries could be shipped to all parts of the state.
Several bills have been introduced in the House and Senate providing for such sanctuaries. They all provide that the state legislature must concur in the setting aside of sanctuary areas, since the game on these areas belongs to the state. So there is no transgression of states' rights in this provision.

It may seem that this measure would benefit chiefly the West, where most of the forest reserves are, but as a matter of fact, including the forest lands in the East acquired by the Government under the act of 1911, there are now forest reserves in all except a few of the North Central states. New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas and Florida now all have national forest areas in them. Thus a string of game sanctuaries could be established all up and down the Atlantic coast. In the country surrounding them would be found the very best of hunting, and the hunting for the whole state would be greatly improved. Every hunter in the United States would profit by these sanctuaries.
This protective measure would cost little. A proclamation of the Secretary of Agriculture, setting aside certain lands for the purpose, and concurrence of the state legislatures, would be the only procedures necessary, while a few wardens on each sanctuary would constitute the only permanent expense of the system.

Not only would this protective system greatly enrich the supply of all kinds of game, but it is the only thing that will save valuable species in many sections of the country. What one sees everywhere in this country is a few of the more adaptable species of game holding their own at considerably less than a normal abundance, while other varieties steadily decrease. The state of Maryland, near the Capital, where thousands of Washington sportsmen hunt every fall, is typical of many of the more settled states. Maryland has fairly good game laws, with generous open seasons, and it has greatly improved its laws and system of game propagation in the past few years. It cannot afford an expensive warden system like that of New York State, for example. There the game wardens are an armed and uniformed force. In Maryland, as in most states, they are mostly farmers who are paid nothing and do little. Even so, the game law is fairly well obeyed, and the common species of game hold their own. Besides the excellent wild fowl shooting of the Chesapeake region, which brings a really considerable item of food into the state every fall, there are still a good many quail, rabbits and squirrels. Sportsmen get good shooting within 15 or 20 miles of Washington, and many quail are killed close to the District of Columbia line. But many parts of the state, especially the large wooded areas along the Potomac, formerly supported large numbers of wild turkeys and ruffed grouse. Any good hunter could get his Thanksgiving turkey in the woods a quarter of a century ago, while the grouse, locally called a pheasant, were so abundant that many hunters paid no attention to the humble quail.

The story of these birds has been one of slow decrease to the verge of extermination. Now there are just a few bands of wild turkeys in the large wooded areas, while the ruffed grouse is an occasional and surprising sight.
This decrease has not been wholly due to shooting. The cutting down of the woods, together with forest fires, must have had much to do with it. But the main reason has been the loss of their support ground and not a few wild turkeys would thrive if they once got a start. Even deer, which have been extinct in much of the state for half a century, could be restored in many places. This was proved when a few deer were turned loose near Mt. Vernon, 18 miles from Washington, and multiplied at an astonishing rate without protection.

A proper system of game sanctuaries would give the American sportsman a shot at some of the noble game that his grandfather hunted.
The failure of an independent candidate, as determined more than any personal ambition, where Wisconsin stands. Whatever battle is fought against the La Follette nonpartisan league should be in the party and by its members as leaders. The democrats attempting to organize an Independent Voters League can as well come under that banner as to follow a futile independent movement.
In this conflict with state socialism and the nonpartisan league and all other isms, personal ambition must be sunk in the general welfare of the state. The republican party unleashes the nonpartisan league and purges itself of the things that are foreign to its faith and its platforms.

New Mexico, always a doubtful state, has elected a republican United States senator by a majority of 9,000. That is a large majority for New Mexico and the largest republican lead ever recorded there outside of a presidential year. It will be cheerful news for republicans generally to know that the six months of the administration has been accepted by the voters of that state in a test as a good and worthy effort to solve the giant problems confronting the government since March 4.
Congress has started the publication of the Record again. The public would like to see it filled with reports of action rather than promises.
This is a good time for the man who is looking for the job to make way for some one who is jobless.

The voice is mute; the singer is forgotten. The curtain falls, the play is half ended. In the silence, the voice of the singer is heard. Where all they did to comfort men cannot. ### Who's Who Today

CANON GARNETT.

Canon Garnett, chaplain of the British house of commons and sub-chaplain of Westminster Abbey, is now in the United States, having come with his American wife for a visit. His wife was Miss Mary Endicott, daughter of Judge Endicott of New York and a widow of Joseph Chamberlain.
Canon Garnett was born in 1869 at St. Edmund, County Dubuque. He was educated at Magdalen college, Oxford. Following his graduation he spent two years touring the world. He was ordained in 1891 and worked as a curate in Stanningley, York and East London. He was rector of Great Valley, Virginia, from 1900 to 1902 and was rector of the cathedral church of St. Philip, Birmingham, England, from 1902 to 1905.
Canon Garnett has been canon of Westminster since 1910; chaplain of the house of commons since 1916; archdeacon of Westminster since 1918, and subdeacon of Westminster Abbey since 1919. He has written a number of books on religious subjects and has traveled extensively, having toured the world for twenty some years ago.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Unemployment.
Just a few days ago, a man who had had to go with the unemployed for years gave it as his opinion, and the opinion of about equally exasperated, that not more than 15 per cent of those out of employment at any time could be depended upon to make really earnest efforts to find work. These, he said, usually found it. Some are provided to search for employment by leading for a while around places where a decent kind of job might be expected to turn up; but after a time even that move was abandoned and the half-hearted search of work left to the unemployed. Their places reduced expenses and reentered to the misuses that was no use trying for there were no jobs open. Still others, outside the 15 per cent class, said that of experience, said, would speak to a woman working for it it was squarely met in the street. Repeated estimates have placed the idle in New York City at 1 1/2 million. But last week a New York reporter went out in search of work. First, he represented himself as a laboring man, and in three hours he had found three jobs. And two of these cases the foreman became so insistent that he go to work at once that the reporter had to reveal his identity and his purpose in going for work. A search for other forms of employment went through almost a day; but that netted the reporter two offers at a living wage and in several cases the assurance that if he would come back soon he could find a place. ### LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Sept. 23, 1881.—Mayor A. P. Lovejoy has issued a proclamation urging the citizens to observe the day that the burial of the President will take place in Cleveland, and that all attend the memorial services which will be held at 2 p. m. in the Court house plaza. Mr. W. B. Britton has been appointed marshal for the day.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Sept. 23, 1891.—Mayor St. John issued a statement this morning that starting next Monday a special officer will be hired to enforce the ordinance that all owners who do well to get licenses before that time. The law has been lax but the Mayor intends to keep it enforced from now on.—Howe brothers are planning to erect a warehouse on North River street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Sept. 23, 1901.—The trial of Col. Goetz for the assassination of President McKinley began in Buffalo today. He states that he is guilty and an examination showed him to be sane. Lord Kitchener's reports from Africa are that the Boers are winning battle after battle and that things look bad for Britain. Gen. Leonard Wood, military governor of Cuba, left for there today. It is expected that the island will be freed the first of next May.

TEN YEARS AGO
Sept. 23, 1911.—The postal bank at the post office opened for the first time this morning and began to receive money. The bank is being established for those who do not wish to entrust their money to other banks. Clarence Brown was first to set a certificate of deposit and a Gazette reporter was second.—Pictures taken in this city will be shown at a local theater next week.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

THE CANCER QUESTION
Several weeks ago some correspondence sent in a query about cancer—a skin cancer, it is recalled—and I answered in this column to the effect that if I were the victim I should have the cancer removed surgically and then have a course of X-ray treatment afterward to prevent recurrence.
This query and my reply brought a shower of letters from readers who desired to obtain the name and address of my correspondent in order that they might put him or her in touch with a sure cure for cancer. No one received the correspondence. No one was ever heard from or ever will obtain from me the identity of any correspondent. I deem it a confidential matter when anyone writes to me in my capacity as a health adviser and I feel that it is my duty to preserve such confidence inviolate.
However, there is one peculiarity about all these letters from persons who are so eager to put a cancer to rest, and who are so anxious to get a "cancer cure." The peculiarity is a striking one: Every letter is miserably scrawled, distressingly misspelled, punctuated and all-aroundly wrong. The letters came from persons who are obviously extremely ignorant. It is such people who believe, or pretend to believe, that cancer is a curable disease. It is such people who are so anxious to get a "cancer cure." It is such people who are so anxious to get a "cancer cure." It is such people who are so anxious to get a "cancer cure."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Vinegar Not a Food.
You stated that vinegar is poisonous. Does that apply to all kinds of brands of vinegar?—W. D. Z.
Answer—All vinegars are practically alike. No one would expect to get any benefit from the various flavors being unimportant. Acetic acid cannot be utilized by the body and is so potent a poison that it is a health hazard. It is not safe to drink. If you are in doubt about the purity of the water, add to each quart one tablet of Halazone, which is practically dilute chlorine and which is oxidized and utilized by the body the same as food, and is therefore not poisonous.
Doubtful Water.
Please publish in your column the best treatment for water-borne diseases carried in water—Dr. A. D. Answer—For a treatment of the danger of typhoid fever and other diseases carried in water—Dr. A. D. polluted water safe to drink. If the water is boiled five minutes, it is safe to drink. If you are in doubt about the purity of the water, add to each quart one tablet of Halazone, which is practically dilute chlorine and which is oxidized and utilized by the body the same as food, and is therefore not poisonous. It is convenient for travelers and campers.

The Doctor's Daughter.
My father is a physician, too, and he told me we would abide by his decision. The question is, would you advise a 10 year old girl to bob her hair? How long would it be? My hair is coming out quite badly and therefore I want it bobbed, but father doesn't agree.—J. L. Answer—For a physician, your father shows pretty good sense—he agrees with me! A girl or woman should never have her hair bobbed or clipped if she desires to have beautiful hair. Often bitter disappointment is the only result, for it is a very unsatisfactory again. I wish some father's office stationery and write again, enclosing a stamped envelope addressed to yourself, and I will send you some general advice about the care of your hair which I am sure your father will agree with.
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail. Write to "The Editor," and stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address: Dr. Wm. Brady, Gazette.

Q. What is the difference between Graham flour and whole wheat flour?
A. Graham flour is unbleached wheat meal ground from the whole kernel. The so called whole wheat or entire wheat flour contains all the kernel except the germ and the bran. According to chemical analysis of Graham flour, it contains the highest and most nutritious of all flours, and is the best for the stomach and the lowest per cent of total protein.
Q. What country has granted international copyrights?
A. Prussia was the first to grant international copyrights, passing an act in 1839 which gave the protection of the Prussian statute to the writers of all countries which would reciprocate.
Q. Was Lord known in early Bible times?
A. Lord is mentioned in the Bible first in Exodus "They sank as lead in the mighty waters" afterward in Numbers Job and Ezekiel.
Q. Old Edwin Austin Abbey, the artist, became a British subject, did he not?
A. Although Edwin Austin Abbey lived in England for many years, and died in London, he never gave up his American nationality.
Q. How can the odor be taken out of kerosene without changing the kerosene composition?
A. To deodorize kerosene, shake repeatedly with fresh portions of metallic silicic acid. Let it stand for two days, then jelly, or shake with plumbic acid (oxide of lead dissolved in caustic soda), then rectify.
Q. How many names are there on the monument erected to Pennsylvania's soldier dead at Gettysburg?
A. The Pennsylvania state memorial at Gettysburg contains 23,000 names.
Q. Is it possible to purchase a discharge from the army?
A. Discharge of enlisted men from the regular army has been approved by Secretary Weeks, who on July 25 directed the adjutant general to put the discharge of enlisted men from the army, this rescinds previous rulings to the contrary.

HOROSCOPE

The stars incline, but do not compel. FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1921
According to astrology this is an uncertain day, for while Neptune is in benefic aspect, Uranus is strongly adverse.
With the entry of the sun into the sign of Libra today, Uranus is in the second house and the Moon on the cusp of the sixth, while Mars, Jupiter and Saturn are in the eighth house in Virgo.
Saturn in conjunction with Jupiter denoted much unhappiness and the events of greatest importance for the United States.
Waste of public money will be discovered despite all efforts toward thrift in government affairs, the seeds of ruin.
Mars is in a place that threatens railroad strikes and even riots.
Venus is in a place that indicates a midsummer.
Despite warnings to conserve capital there will be a great outlay for amusements, and theaters will benefit.
There is a sign read as presaging the death of a famous woman before the winter has passed.
The Sun is read as indicating changes affecting the world generally. This may be favorable to disarmament, but is not so interpreted.
The effects of the conjunction, which took place Sept. 10, do not manifest once, as has been emphasized, but remain in force for several years. As the conjunction rose in Constantinople, the dismemberment of the Turkish empire is confidently predicted by astrologers.
Violent earthquakes are persistently prognosticated by astrologers.
Persons whose birthdate is 10 should not travel or make any radical changes in the coming year.
Children born on this day may be restless and discontented. These subjects of Libra are often inclined to be sentimental and dramatic, but they are generally exceedingly bright.

Dinner Stories

A visitor to Kentucky came across a rare specimen, an unmarried colored man.
The negro was a quiet, elderly person, not shifty but quite industrious, so the northern man felt curious and determined to find out why he had remained single.
"Uncle Jim, how does it happen that you are opposed to matrimony?" The old fellow looked up with a grave face, but there was a twinkle in his eye as he replied: "Me, sah? I'm 'posed to matrimony."
"Well, why is it you have never married?" his inquirer continued. "Haven't you seen anyone you liked?" "Lawdy! yessah—but you see I'm 'thawaway! I couldn't risk my judgment."

Protect The School Child's Health

This is one of the most vital questions that the mother faces in the course of her life.
If her children are not healthy they cannot succeed in their pursuit of education—they cannot grow into normal maturity.
Our Washington Information Bureau, realizing this, has endeavored to make a bulletin that would give the mother the best possible advice about securing for her children physically fit.
The book is now ready. It contains 180 pages, with clear tables, and an index so that each subject may be instantly located. It is undoubtedly the most practical guide ever made of the subject. IT IS FREE TO ALL.

Brander Mathews said as a Columbian too:
"Suggestion rather than detail makes the most vivid picture. Detail, indeed, may spoil a picture completely. A preacher was describing heaven to a widow whose husband had just died. He said the separation of her dear ones was not for long, and then with elaborate detail he painted the happiness of those whom death reunites in paradise.
"When the preacher stopped for breath the widow observed thoughtfully:
"Well, I suppose his first wife has got him again, then."

Genuine Common Sense

Many Ford owners can afford to own and operate any car they may choose, but they prefer a Ford "because it is a Ford."
For "because it is a Ford" means dependability, ease of operation, efficiency—and it means sure, quick transportation.
And "because it is a Ford" means good taste, pride of ownership and genuine Common Sense.
The Ford Sedan, a closed car of distinction, beauty and convenience, is the ideal all year 'round car, for pleasure or business—for the farm, town or city. It gives you all that any car can give at a much lower cost for operation and maintenance.

ENGLAND TO HAVE SIX ON DELEGATION

Delegations Should be Represented at Disarmament Meet, U. S. Opinion.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.
Washington.—News from England indicates that Great Britain will have six members on her delegation to the disarmament conference. If this is her wish it will be granted and every other delegation will be increased from four to six members.

Of course America has anything to say about the personnel of other delegations and has not attempted to limit the size beyond the general statement that the delegations ought to be small so as to permit of effective business.

But it is a fact that American public opinion as gauged by those in authority here indicates a desire to have the representatives of the British empire represented somehow in the British delegation.

In the interests of better relations between the various English-speaking countries, it had been hoped the British cabinet would invite the premiers of Canada, New Zealand, South Africa, and Australia or their representatives to sit in the disarmament conference as a part of the British delegation.

Many of the problems which will be discussed at the conference on far eastern questions are vitally related to Canada, New Zealand and Australia. The United States would like to be apprised directly on the views of those countries and to make sure that the representatives of these nations are informed first hand in Washington of the details of policy of the Washington government. Indeed, far more than appears on the surface, the important bearing on the relations between the United States and the British empire. It is significantly recalled here that the whole matter is the direct result of the Imperial dominion conference when the opposition to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance developed on the part of the British dominions coincidentally with the expressions of the American press against the continuation of that pact.

The first cable dispatches from London would seem to indicate that not a single representative of the British dominions will be on the British delegation. This has occasioned much disappointment here. At first it was supposed that this may be due to a hesitancy on the part of Britain to have her dominion governments discuss foreign affairs with other powers but the prominent part which the dominions are destined to play in the Paris conference as well as the success of the British government in securing representation in the assembly of the League of Nations may be due to the feeling that to do so would be an admission of the fact that the dominions are no longer to be treated as a mere appendage to the British empire.

Wanted Envoys in U. S.
For years there has been agitation on the part of the Chinese people for the mission to Washington. In principle this plan has met with approval here but while the British government might not object to a Chinese mission to Washington, would they approve of an American commissioner at Ottawa. Although there is no parallel between the importance of Egypt and China, Egypt has been a protectorate on the one hand and Canada on the other. It is a fact that an American commissioner, possessing virtually diplomatic powers, has been a resident at Cairo for years. The whole problem is one of the delicate points between the United States and Great Britain which it had been expected here would be settled before the big conference began.

Another Democrat.
Meanwhile speculation is developing as to who the additional two members of the United States delegation will be if the membership of all delegations is increased from four to six. It is assumed that another democrat will be chosen. John W. Davis, former American ambassador to Great Britain, is especially familiar with the problems to come before the conference and is not known as a partisan democrat. His name is being mentioned repeatedly as a probable choice. Robert Lansing, former secretary of state, is another democrat who is eligible, although it is said he has already been engaged by the Chinese government as an adviser. As for the republican member, John Bassett Moore, recently selected as a justice of the new World court, is spoken of for place on the commission while gossip at the capital is that Senator Knox, of Pennsylvania, a former secretary of state, might be added to the American delegation.

RED ARMY PARADES AT ANCIENT STRONGHOLD OF CZARISM

Red soldiers on parade under the walls of the Kremlin in Moscow. The Kremlin is on the right. At the left Red workmen are repairing the cathedral of St. Basil. Inset above indicates that the reference to the communists as "long haired men and short haired women" is correct. It shows types at the Third Internationale.

Under the shadow of the Kremlin in Moscow, which once was the stronghold of Czar Nicholas and his predecessors, the troops of Lenin now march and the do- do of world communism is uttered without fear of Cossacks. This glimpse of Moscow was taken recently while the Red troops were on parade before the Kremlin during the Third Internationale in Moscow. The upper photo gives an idea of the types of delegates at the Red congress.

Sharon

Two Governors on Ku Klux

IS the present day Ku Klux Klan a menace or a beneficent institution? A New York newspaper which has been viciously attacking the organization on the ground that it is subversive of law, order and morals recently asked the governors of all the states to give their opinions of the society and its works. Many of the answers were in agreement with the attitude of the newspaper. One governor, Hardwick of Georgia, took occasion to express different views. He said: "There has been no complaint whatever in this state against the Ku Klux Klan. They have not been charged with any violation of the law or any improper activities and there is no suggestion from any source to take any official action on the subject in Georgia. The organization is no more bound by secret oaths than the vast majority of other fraternal organizations in this country, and in my opinion its right to continue its membership to persons of a certain race and of a certain religion cannot be seriously challenged."

The vast majority of the replies stated that the writers were opposed to any organization that had a secret purpose, and for this reason could look with no favor on the Ku Klux Klan. This view was expressed by Governor Morgan of West Virginia, who said: "I am unalterably opposed to the organization of the Ku Klux Klan or any similar association that has a secret purpose, and the people of West Virginia, I believe, are of the same opinion. While there may be worthy citizens members of this secret Klan, no one can doubt that it is responsible for the creation and stirring up of racial prejudices from which we are singularly free here in West Virginia, although we have a large negro population. I am not opposed to organizations which have for their object the aiding of crime, but the enforcement of our laws must be left to those officially charged with their administration, or unjust punishment will be visited on the innocent."

Autumn Arrives Friday Morning

Fall, the colorful days of "pép" when the leaves change their coats to marvellous hues and then come the cold days of winter. Summer, the hottest one in the history of the city, is passing out with a brave attempt to hold a little of its heat. If the public is to take the word of the amateur weather prophet, October is going to be somewhat of a sultry month. November will be cooler and December will be crisp with plenty of wind. October will also be a rainy month, but the Thanksgiving and Christmas months will be dry.

According to Hicks' almanac, sudden thunder storms and changes of temperature will be common in October with shifting winds and disagreeable weather. November will be more normal. Autumn will only slight storminess in the middle with colder weather and snow at the end. "Nasty" storm weather will open December with shifting temperatures while winter will open with rawness and snow with the year going out like a lamb on the wings of cold.

Indians and Yanks Open Crucial Series; 2 Points Apart

Copyright 1920. by Geo. McManus.

Flag Race Rests Largely on Outcome

New York.—Tris Speaker's Cleveland Indians, 1920 world's champions, were here Friday for their final four game series with the New York Yankees in which it is believed the 1921 pennant race will be decided.

The reserved seat sections at the Polo grounds all have been sold for the series and experts estimate that close to 150,000 fans will see the four games. Ticket seekers scoured the Yankees' offices yesterday and Wednesday and many were turned away.

Extra police squads have been detailed to the ball park to handle the crowds expected to start early for the unreserved seats.

The teams start the series on virtually even terms. The Yankees have an advantage of less than 2 points, the Indians having won one more and lost one more game than their rivals. Three victories in the four games would give either team a tight hold on first place with a two game lead, while a clean sweep would give the victors a four game lead and make it almost impossible to oust them.

WILLIAMS SEEMS SURE FOR BADGER QUARTER POSITION

Madison.—The line-up of the Wisconsin football team is still in doubt after the first week of practice, with the quarterback position the biggest problem facing Coach J. H. McNeill. Definite announcement by the coach school that the position will be given to take a special examination, leaves a serious breach in the team.

Despite this handicap, and the absence of experienced line-men, the squad is expanding rapidly into shape. The backs are putting up a game that is expected to mean the downfall of several conference eleven in the race for the championship.

Reilly Williams, regular half-back last season, and a star of the team, has been shifted to quarterback to take Barry's place. Williams, former quarterback, was tried out in half-back position with Gill, but neither is believed to be in a class with Williams.

During the week Coach Richards has tried out a variety of combinations of players. At center, he has removed Drumm and placed George Bunge, regular for two years, back into the position. To fill the tackle position, left vacant by this change, he put in Merrill Tait, captain of last year's freshman team.

Tebell Outstanding End

Guards have been fairly regularly filled by Nelson and Irons, both of them new men for the positions. Tebell, guard last year, is filling in at tackle, where he is settled.

Tebell, who has also been tried at quarterback, is the outstanding end of the team. It is believed Coach Richards will keep him regularly in the wing position. Carlson, a freshman last year, is being played at end other end, alternating with Horne at other end. The left end position is still unsettled and will not be definitely filled before the conference season opens.

Gould at Half

Gould and Elliott at half-back and Captain Sunde at full-back, make up a back field that has gained almost at will through the strong opposition practice teams. Their offensive work is in smooth running order at the present time.

Bala has been a constant hindrance to the Badger squad in its practices. Clear weather the past two days has given opportunity for heavy practice, however, and has resulted in marked improvement.

Wisconsin's first game is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 1, against the University of Wisconsin at Madison. The Badgers are expected to run through the college team without much difficulty, through the work of the back field men. This contest will try out the Wisconsin line, which is still somewhat of a doubtful quality.

The first conference game is against Northwestern at Evanston, Oct. 15, followed by Illinois at Urbana Oct. 22, and Minnesota at Madison Oct. 29, the Homecoming game.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Rice to Battle Mitchell Friday

Milwaukee.—Ernie Rice, light-weight champion of Great Britain, came over here with the idea of fighting a four-round bout with Lenny Leonard for the world's title, only to find on his arrival that Leonard had injured his hand and would be unable to box for some time. The little Britisher did not fill the papers with stories of the champion's desire to evade him, but asked Manager Charles Harvey to get the next best man in America for him, so that he could show the people here that his record of having knocked out his last sixteen opponents entitled him to a chance at the championship, so he meets Ritchie Mitchell, who gave Leonard two great fights, here Friday night.

NEW YORK CHANGES RULES OF WRESTLING

Net Consolation to Cunningham

The most successful tennis tournament ever staged in Janesville came to a close Thursday night when the final in the consolation event were played with Robert J. Cunningham, winning the silver trophy by defeating Richard O'Brien in straight sets 7-5, 6-2, 6-0.

The match was featured by stellar playing with experience winning for Cunningham who was also a runner-up in the doubles, paired with Bolles O'Brien, with the score of the first set, 6-3, could not get the necessary points to win and, after deciding the set, Cunningham won the next two games and the set, 7-5. Cunningham's easy service gave O'Brien a chance to take some wonderful smashes with a reverse stroke, which he used effectively. This nearly proved Cunningham's undoing.

He tightened in the next two sets, however, which he won easily 6-2, 6-0. The match brought out good playing from both sides.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.
Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a nurse. During the latter part of the war I served in France, but since my return I have practiced in this country. I was one of my resolves when taking up nursing not to take advantage of my patients and try to make them fall in love with me. In spite of the fact that I tried to carry my resolve into effect, many of my patients have loved me and proposed, but I have always told them to wait a year and propose again. No one has seemed to want me at the end of the year.

For the last month I have been nursing a young man from another state. He came here to visit his aunt and uncle and met with a slight accident, cutting his hand with a piece of brass. Poisonous set in and he has been very ill and even on the point of death.

As usual, he thinks he has fallen in love with me, but the unusual has happened and I know I have fallen in love with him. It does not seem fair for me to accept his proposal, and yet I do not want to go with him. I am not as the others have, and this time I couldn't bear it.

In two weeks he will return home and he has asked me to go with him as his wife. I want to go with all my heart, but I do not want to go unless he really loves me, because I so want my marriage to be successful.

What would you advise? Would it be taking my advantage to marry him? Would I run the risk of losing his love and being unhappy all my married life? DOUBTFUL.

Marriage is a great venture and the result is always uncertain regardless of the precautions taken. I would advise you to marry him because you love him. If you are tactful, sympathetic and thoughtful after marriage there is no reason why your married life will not be happy. Do not feel that the man's love for you was forced by circumstances; instead believe that at last a divine love has come into your life which you can make deeper and brighter by your efforts through life.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 19 years of age and was keeping company with a boy of 21. One day I called him up on the telephone and he asked me to go out with him. I refused and he told me he was through with me.

Do you think he cared for me? Did I do the right thing? I have quit calling him up.

Do you think he cared for me? Did I do the right thing? I have quit calling him up.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 20 years of age. I met a man 12 years my senior not long ago. I thought he was the man for me, but he threw me down.

Since I have met a clean young man who has asked me to be his wife, I realize my mistake about the other man and wish there had not been the previous engagement with the kissing and love that went with it.

Should I tell the man I love about it and take a chance of losing him, or let it pass over? I know this is the man I love.

DOUBTFUL.

Tell the young man of your previous engagement and answer any questions he may ask truthfully. I doubt if you love him, but if you do you may be sure that he did not love you deeply enough.

RECIPES FOR A DAY
Beef Stew—One-half pound lean beef, one-quarter cup flour, two or three carrots, one cup shell beans, three cups small boiled potatoes, salt, pepper, hot water. Other vegetables may be used if desired, such as peas, turnips or corn.

Boil potatoes and remove jackets. Boil vegetables. Brown the onions in a little fat and then the meat, cubed, dredged in flour and seasoned. Cover with hot water and simmer for about two hours. If the beans are dry they should be added at once, otherwise add all vegetables but potatoes about one hour before serving. The potatoes being already cooked should be put in a few minutes before serving.

Cheese and Vegetable Salad—Nine small balls of cottage cheese, sliced cucumber, onion, strips of green pepper and lettuce.

Average the ingredients tastefully on the lettuce and serve with your favorite mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing.

Brown Betty—Two cups bread crumbs, five cups small apples (tart), one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one cup sugar, four teaspoon butter, little salt and one-half cup water. Alternate layers of crumbs and apple in buttered baking dish, seasoning each layer of apples with sugar, spice, salt and butter; moisten with water, cover and bake slowly for one hour, removing the cover for last 15 minutes to brown crumbs on top.

Mixed Pickles—Two quarts green tomatoes, two quarts ripe tomatoes, three green peppers, one large cucumber, one bunch celery, three large onions, two tablespoons of mustard, one small cabbage, one-half cup salt, three pints vinegar, two pounds brown sugar.

After being washed and prepared the vegetables, chop all together; cover with salt and let them stand overnight. Drain off liquid in the morning, then add to the mixture the vinegar, sugar and mustard, and boil one hour. Seal in bottles while hot.

AUTO THIEF GETS YEAR IN WAUPUN

Jefferson—Judge George Grimm on Thursday sentenced Erwin Eger, 22, Johnson Creek youth, to one year in state's prison at Waupun when he pleaded guilty to a charge of taking the car of Dr. G. W. ## Studies Effect of Climate on Pacific Lands

Honolulu, T. H.—The effect of storms and other atmospheric disturbances upon the climate, the health, minds and activities of the peoples of the Pacific and upon agriculture and industry is being studied here by Dr. Stephen S. Visser, associate professor of geography at the University of Indiana, who received the Bishop Museum Fellowship from Yale university this year.

"The effect of storms upon ships at sea has been studied extensively, but little thought has been given to the influence of storms upon the health, minds and activities of people in the storm-swept regions," he said in explaining his work. "To this subject I will devote at least a year of study in the Pacific islands, gathering together all the known data, which, with my own observations, will be published."

The Kona winds, the most severe which reach Hawaii, will be observed very closely by Dr. Visser, he said. These winds, a mile force of hurricane, strike the southern part of the island of Oahu, known as the Kona district, and, according to Hawaiian tradition bring sickness upon the inhabitants.

"The Kona wind results from a difference in intensity in low air pressure areas," Dr. Visser explained. "If this wind is strong enough to overcome the trade winds, we have a strong southerly wind, sometimes called the 'sick wind,' because it is hot and depressing. These winds travel from 50 to 100 miles an hour in this region, but their velocity becomes much greater near China and the Indies."

Dr. Visser will spend several months in the Fiji islands, studying the trade winds and then will proceed to the Tongan and Samoa islands, returning to Honolulu to assemble and complete his data for publication.

DAMAGE SUIT WILL GO TO HIGH COURT

Billy Wilkerson

"Every one on the farm stood near by to see us prance up to the house to get our little mistress for her first ride in the new turnout. Her name was Nellie and the minute she saw us she asked what our names were, and when she was told we did not have any she said, 'How queer for ponies not to have any names. I never heard of such a thing before, but I believe after all I am glad for I can name them to suit myself. I am going to call one Calico and the other Black.'"

"Because I don't think a pony looks like a flower and I would rather call them by some name that no one else has used."

"Well, that drive, was the first of many that she took with us, and each one seemed to do her more good than the one before. We always behaved as good as gold when we had her out because we felt so sorry for the poor little sufferer. We had been driven about for a month or more when we heard through the stable boy that we were to be shipped to the city home the next day. That was an unlucky day for us, for from that time we and we had a special groom for ourselves. The head coachman, the cock-alorum of the stable, I called him, because he put on so many airs, was the only one that drove us. He did nothing but drive and would have considered it far beneath his dignity to clean a horse or wash a rig. He only drove when everything was in perfect order. If you think we were happy among all this grandeur you are mistaken. We were miserable in spite of all our style, for no one ever petted us or thought of speaking to us any more than if we had been made of wood. We might as well have been some kind of locomobile, for all the feeling that was shown us and many were the lonesome cries we had on each other's necks when we grieved for our old green pasture and beloved farm."

HIGH PRICES STOP GRAPE PRESERVING

Fruit Is Scarce on Local Market—Peach Season Nears End.

Little grape jelly will be eaten in the homes in Janesville this winter if the present scarcity of grapes continues in the local grocery stores. Home grown grapes were scarce and were all sold some weeks ago and the shipped in Concord are just arriving. The price, 35, 40 and 45 cents per basket, is prohibitive for canning and few can afford the luxury of having them on the table as a fruit course at that price.

Although the price will come down and grapes will be plentiful in the fall season, according to the predictions of local grocers. While the crop of home grown grapes on sale in the stores was poor, those in the fruit stores were better and selling it from their homes, state that it was normal and that the people bought all they could obtain.

Peaches still good.

Peaches continue good with the end of their run close at hand. They are exceptionally good for this time of year, as usually the last of them are seen the first couple of weeks in September. They sell for 25 and 30 cents per basket and from $1.15 to $1.25 per bushel.

Quantities of blue plums now on the market are selling at 75 cents for a large basket, $1.75 to $2.25 for a bushel. The price of the Damson case, while the price of the Damson case is selling for from 25 to 30 cents per bushel containing a quart.

Pears for canning remain about the same price, from $2.50 to $3 per bushel. The price of the pears for eating sell at 45 and 50 cents per dozen, the same price that they have been all summer.

Apples in all varieties and quantities can be secured but all are about the same price—the fancy ones for eating selling at from 10 cents to a shilling a pound, depending on the variety. Quinces are a shilling a pound. Red grapes can be used as much for decorating the table as for eating, as the clusters are now exceptionally large and well colored. They cost from 20 to 25 cents per pound, with the clusters averaging from 2 to 3 pounds each for the larger ones.

Oranges at 50, 55, 60 and 65 cents, remain about the same, while lemons at 40 and 50 cents a dozen, are a little higher than last week. Bananas remain the same.

Oysters in Season.

Oysters have arrived in some places but the price is still high for the average customer. Where they can be secured, the price is around 65 and 70 cents per pint.

Watermelons and musk melons are gone at last, after a very successful season. Due to the rain and the exceedingly warm weather this summer, cantaloupes were the best they have been in years, being larger and sweeter. Only what is known as the "watermelon" cantaloupe, a winter variety, is in the market. They cost 35 cents each. Grapefruit is also purchasable, the first of the season being sweet, although small. They are 15 cents each.

Cranberries remain at the same price, 25 cents per pound and the extent with which they will be on the market this year cannot yet be determined.

Vegetable Prices Same.

Few changes in price are seen in the vegetable market and nothing new has come in but rutabagas at 4 cents per pound. The last of the tomatoes, at 4 and 5 cents per pound, and the cucumbers at 3 for 10 cents, are seen. Following are quotations on the vegetables: peppers, 20, 25 and 30 cents per dozen; head lettuce, 20 cents each; carrots, 5 cents per bunch; onions, 4 pounds for a quarter; Spanish onions, 5 cents a pound; cabbage, 3 and 4 cents per pound; sweet potatoes, 4 pounds for 25 cents; and 5 and 55 cents per peck, slightly higher than last week; turnips, 2 and 4 cents per pound; squash, same; celery from 4.5 cents or stalk; pumpkins, 15, 20 and 25 cents each; beans 20 cents per pound.

Butter is going up in price slightly now being from 42 to 50 cents per pound, while eggs are also higher, from 35 to 40 cents per dozen.

$5,000.00 worth of lines go into our gigantic sale, starting Saturday. Get our prices. Service free.

WOMEN CAN CAUSE BETTER OFFICIALS

Oshkosh Woman Urges Careful Watch on Office Holders.

"Women, standing for good clean government," was the ideal placed before the women of the nation by Mrs. Den Hooper, Oshkosh, in an address before the first meeting of the League of Women Voters at the season of the League of Women Voters at the public library, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Hooper addressed the Kewanee club, then returned to the local church at Columbus at night, on disbursement.

"Don't acquire the habit of voting the straight party ticket simply because it is put before you," she urged the women voters. "If you women vote according to the dictates of your own conscience you can't go far wrong."

"Responsibility rests on each voter and upright candidates. Voters should dictate terms to their choice, and not let candidates run the elections. Pick out the men qualified, and ask them to take office."

Advocates United Work.

She outlined the principles of the League of Women Voters, and told how it came into existence after the federal amendment had made the further work of the suffrage organization. She was one of the hardest working women of the old suffrage days, when lobbying for suffrage measures, and buttonholing governors and congressmen was part of the day's task.

She is an eloquent and convincing speaker, and while primarily speaking on the question of disbursement, she is strictly alive on all the questions pertaining to women's part in good government. Education of women along these lines is the mission of the League of Women Voters, according to Mrs. Hooper.

"We are part of the great world movement," she said, "and there are certain things we must stand for in government. All working together, nothing can stop us."

She showed the practical workings of the state League, in keeping a check on the way the legislators voted at the last session on the 50 or more principal bills and the roll call to be made before the next meeting of the legislature to ascertain how these men stand on the leading questions coming before them. The results are sent out in a bulletin to each member, and they can thus keep tabs on their representatives.

She showed that the legislative

TO PRESENT LARGE FLAG TO Y. W. C. A.

Gift of Women's Relief Corps to be Made at Rally.

Presentation to the Y. W. C. A. of a beautiful American flag by the Women's Relief Corps will be a feature of the fall rally at the association rooms, Friday night, to which all girls of the city are cordially invited. The presentation speech will be made by Mrs. C. F. Lester, 1917 Wheeler street, of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Mary Barker, president of the Y. W. C. A., will make the address of acceptance.

Dancing numbers by pupils of George L. Hatch and vocal solos by Mrs. Stewart W. Kiehl are other numbers on the program. Refreshments will be served. The entertainment will begin at 8 p. m.

It is hoped to entertain from 400 to 500 girls. Miss Edna Beardsley, general secretary, announces. The plan is to make up the fall and winter program of gymnasium and night school classes, social functions and other activities.

The Y. W. C. A. is looking forward to a most successful season. With the coming of cold weather, the rooms will be patronized more than ever, it is believed, and with this view a full program is being proposed.

HE SPENT $2,000 IN VAIN SEARCH

Milwaukee Man Takes Tanlac And Is Now Enjoying Perfect Health—Gains 20 Pounds.

"Tanlac has put me in perfect health and built me up twenty-nine pounds in weight besides, and I just feel like going up and down the streets telling everybody what it has done for me," was the statement made by Jack Robinson, 336 Brady St., Milwaukee, Wis.

"No more light food for me now! Why, I used to have to live on such things as soft boiled eggs, toast, milk, and the like, but since Tanlac has fixed me up so fine I sit down to a good meal of steak and potatoes and eat anything else I want and give a good account of myself. I only wish I had gotten hold of Tanlac three years ago for it would have saved the two thousand dollars I paid out trying to get my health back."

"I suffered terribly from indigestion and nervousness, had no appetite at all, and was in such a weak, run-down condition I could not even get out of the house. I went out west a couple of years for my health but it didn't do me any good and I hardly knew what to do next, as I could find nothing to help me."

"Well, my friends got me started on Tanlac, and five bottles of the medicine have put me in better health than I have been in ten years. I am entirely free from nervousness and indigestion, and feel just fine in every way. There is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

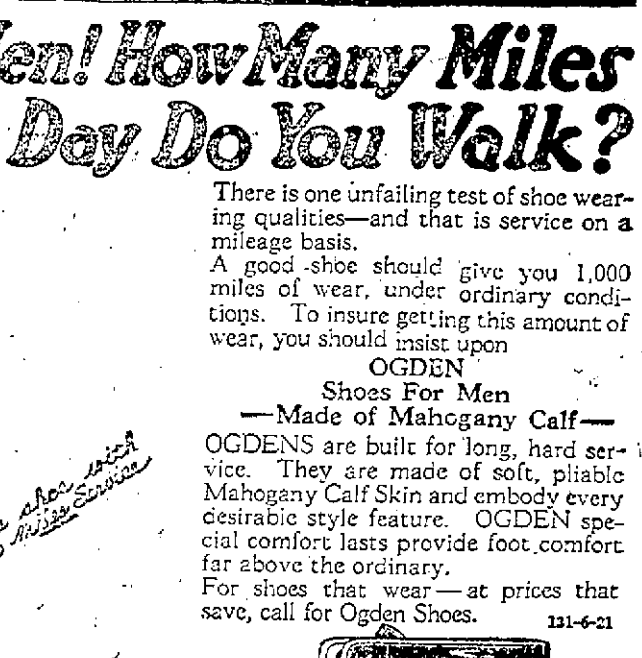

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

BOUTIN HONORED BY SAMSON EMPLOYEES

Fifty-two employees of the Engineering department of the Samson Tractor company surprised Charles G. Boutin, manager of the Myers theatre and formerly employed by the Samson, after the show Thursday night. J. S. Patch, experimental engineer, speaking for the group presented him with a gold watch. Mr. Boutin was taken back of the stage upon which the curtain suddenly yanked with the spot-light full upon him. He was given the end of a long ribbon with which he pulled a miniature Samson truck down the aisle and up a runway and down the aisle.

SKAVLEN ROAD IS ORDERED LAID OUT

Despite protest of the Carcajou club, the proposed L. Skavlen road which would border its property along the shores of Lake Koshkonong has been ordered laid out. The dispute over the road was decided Saturday in the club rooms. Judge Rogers represented the town board, with H. L. Skavlen and H. L. Board asking for the road. Jesse Hunt and Charles L. Juncosville, lawyers, Carcajou members, presented arguments against the plan. H. L. Skavlen offered the land for the road free and the town board agreed to lay out the road exactly as planned.

CORRECT ENGLISH

Try this little test in "Correct English" each Sunday and determine how much you know about the language. Upon which syllable does the accent fall in the word "abandonment"? Is it correct to say, "The noise aggravated him"? Is it correct to say, "Her reply but aggravated his sorrow"? How is the word "finis" pronounced? Is it "good form" to place the words, "present" or "addressed," on letters delivered by messenger?

Answer.

The accent is preferably upon the second syllable of the word, "ab-don-men."

Since the word, "aggravate," means to make worse or intensify a trouble already existing, it is a colloquialism as used in the sentence, "The noise aggravated him."

"Aggravated" is, therefore, correctly used in the sentence, "Her reply but aggravated his sorrow."

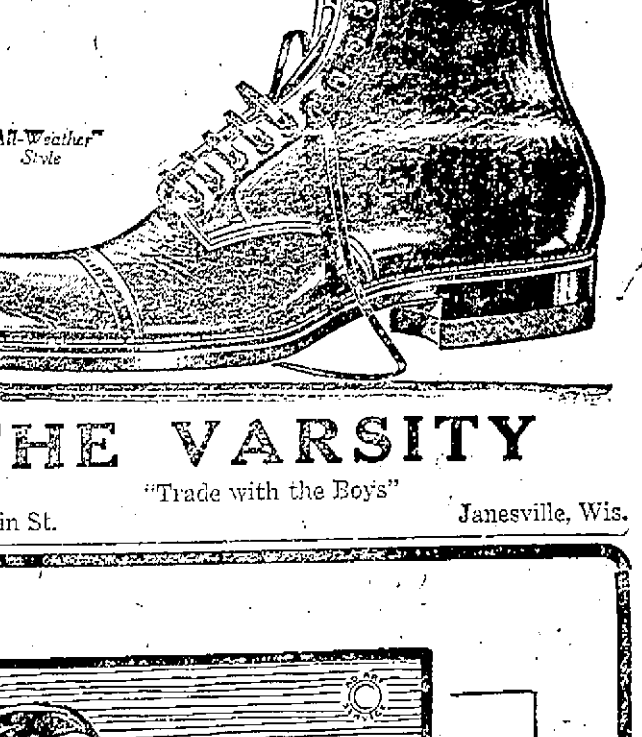

The word "finis" is pronounced "f-i-n-i-s."

It is no longer customary to put "present" or "addressed" on the envelope, in lieu of an address, when a letter is delivered by messenger.

JEALOUS WOMAN KILLS HER FRIEND

Manhattan, formerly a nurse in the Hanan household, requested that Mrs. Williams take Mrs. Lawes body to San Francisco and have it cremated.

"The letter addressed to the nurse, asked her to notify Walter Dunnington at the Madison Square Hotel, this city to take care of her affairs."

"You Much Liquor?"

"Send me home to California to be cremated," continued the letter. "Make it easy for my darling, Walter, to get it. Don't let her know the truth, dear, don't stand this sordid, tinsel life any longer."

"Excuse me, Billie, all my mistakes and remember me as sweet and conversation on all sides."

"The black leather Jewel case is in the safe and my rings are gone and I sold the tickets. All my trunks and hat box are gone. All my bags at Hannan's. Send them home to my mother, please."

After adding that she had sent the "ruby ring to John Borland," the letter ended.

"I drew almost all my money out of Harriman National bank. Did have $500 in my purse."

And then Worried.

Miss Hanan is 24 years old, while Mrs. Lawes was 32. The younger woman, according to police, had been married to Jerome Wagner of this city, but a divorce was granted about three years ago.

Borland was questioned by Assistant District Attorney Wilson and admitted he liked Miss Hanan very much, but denied they were engaged.

Police said the two women had been almost inseparable for four years. They expressed the belief, however, that Mrs. Lawes had become so infatuated with Miss Hanan's acceptance of social invitations from Borland that her mind had become affected. Miss Gottschalk told police Mrs. Lawes had been in love with Dorland and had been extremely jealous.

In an effort to save Miss Hanan's life, a blood transfusion was made. Dr. Harvey Fish was the donor. Assembled at the hospital were Dorland and the girl's mother and brother.

SPIRITUALITY IS HELD GREAT NEED

Modern Ministers Are Salesmen, Not Apostles, Conference Is Told.

London—Modern ministers are trained as mere "salesmen" instead of Christian apostles and that is one reason why the people generally have a lukewarm attitude toward religion, declared the Rev. J. S. Ladd Thomas of Chicago in an address here before the Ecumenical Methodist conference. "The speaker said he saw 'a real peril' in the effort of denominational leaders to force the ministry into a narrow and mechanical scheme, whose direct aim is to produce the largest immediate revenue."

"Poorly attended churches all over the land bear witness to the people's indifference toward institutional religion," said Dr. Thomas.

People Measure Mud

"Full churches are the exception rather than the rule. It is the empty church which 'stares' us in the face and 'more eloquently than words' speaks of the attitude of that large group of people who have rejected institutional religion as something unnecessary in their lives. They are pleasure mad; they have a mania for materialistic indulgence, while their belief in the modern church as the representative of God and the ambassador of Christ does not express itself. The real problem," the speaker indicated, "is how to vitalize the church so that she may authoritatively and convincingly persuade men of their divine inheritance and the mission of 'sacred service.'"

Asserting that "the average artisan lacks confidence in the church as the champion of the 'square deal,'" he continued:

"This indifference has arisen from a misconception of God—a wrong teaching of the church and a wrong teaching of the Christian life."

Next Strong Message

"In many of the radical hours of history the church has failed to impress the world with an authoritative message—which would bring light into the dark hours of the subject of war, the relations of capital and labor, and other vital questions which have been baffling the lives of men."

"Prophets and priests," Dr. Thomas said, "must challenge the people with a gospel that will restore confidence in the church, trust in Christ and service to the world. The church must not forget her social message, but she must also remember that Christianity is a religion of the individual."

War Experiences

Moral standards of the present day, changing from the simple code of our forefathers, are "experiences growing out of the war," declared the Rev. Dr. Robert Robb Zaring, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, Chicago, before the conference.

"It is a passing wave from which," he said, "we are slowly but surely emerging."

$600 LATHE ADDED AT TRADE SCHOOL

An addition to the equipment of the machine shop of the vocational school this year has been made in a Sydney quick change engine lathe costing $600. The plan is to add a miller also in the near future, so the equipment will be complete and any work in this line may be taught.

OPEN DOOR BASIS FOR JAP RAILWAY

Welcome Extended to Foreign Interests in South Manchuria, Claim.

Tokyo—The South Manchuria railway, Japan's great Asiatic trade artery, will be conducted in accordance with the principle of the open door with a welcome extended to cooperation of foreign interests according to Senkichi Hayakawa, banker who has just assumed the presidency of the railway. In a statement he declared that the railroad must over be international in its scope and activities.

He said: "If the interests of Japan and America could be united and identified generally in the Far East it would materially contribute to the stability and peace of the Far East." President Hayakawa added that he hoped his appeal would find a sympathetic response on the other side of the Pacific.

He said he had investigated and found untrue reports that the railway had discriminated against foreigners in the carrying of trade. It was unfortunately true that the history of the railway in China was the history of the growth of political influence of the powers in China. It was, therefore, no small wonder that the character of the South Manchuria railway should be judged in the light of that history. He was determined, however, to conduct the railway as a neutral economic factor and not as an organ of aggressive militarism. He added: The arrangement of the consortium means that Japan has no aggressive designs and no exclusive policy concerning Manchuria and Mongolia. The South Manchuria railway aspires to be the greatest civilizing agency in the region it traverses. It is not only a connecting chain between China and Japan but it is part of a trunk line of intercourse between East and West."

Has Good Reputation.

Mr. Hayakawa has a high reputation in Japanese banking circles. Charges of graft in connection with the conduct of the railway, which were followed by the arrest of the vice-president, caused the government to make practically a clean sweep of the old officials. The railway controls the Korean Railroads and connects with the Chinese Eastern Railway at Changhai. The Japanese have a project of trying to develop the city of Harbin as the great grain center of Eastern Asia and to make it the Winnipeg of the Far East. This would give the South Manchuria Railway greater importance as the carrier and distributor from Harbin which is just north west of Changchun.

WHITE HOUSE FACTS

Thousands of visitors flock to the white house, so that today it is the best known residence in the world, but comparatively few people know the chief facts about the home of their president.

The white house is so named because it is built of white freestone. The site was selected by President Washington and Maj. Peter Charles L'Enfant, planner of the capital city, in 1791.

The first occupants were President and Mrs. Adams, in November, 1800. The white house was burned by the British in 1814.

It was first heated by gas in 1848. A system of heating and ventilation was installed in 1853.

The original cost of the white house was met out of the proceeds from the sale of lands donated by Maryland and Virginia.

Once Colorful City of Volga Region Now Mass of Starving Refugees

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Syrjan, Russia.—There was a time when Syrjan was the most colorful city along the Volga, but that time is gone. Tuesday it is crowded with hungry, starving peasants, who group themselves into gray masses in the search for food. There was a time when the air was filled with a merry, festive hum—the language of the Russians, Mongols, Tartars, Chinese, and Tatars—but the crowds that throng the streets Tuesday are mute. Even the laughter of children has been silenced in the despair that has settled over these tens of thousands, who sit, crossing themselves and wait for what seems to be the inevitable.

Mute in Misery.
Pictures of misery seen here are duplicated in Samara, Simbirsk, Saratoff, Tserkiza, and every other city in the Volga region.

UNUSUAL PHOTOS OF VIRGINIA RAPPE

Combined photos of Miss Virginia Rappe. Notice how the expression on the lower face changes when you invert the picture.

This interesting picture contains two striking likenesses of Virginia Rappe, the movie actress whose death resulted in the jailing of Fatty Arbuckle on a murder charge. The photographer cleverly combined them to form a perfect reflection photo.

In the famine stricken valley of the Volga. Docks and railroad stations are piled with the belongings of refugees, driven from their land by the drought and the clouds of grass hoppers that destroyed even the meagre grain that had defied the heat of the terrible summer now drawing to a close.

Many professional beggars of the type are to be found here, but the starving farmers ask no alms and utter no cry. They stand silent and await their fate with stoicism. Markets have sprung up, mushroom like, here and there about the refugee camps. There are survivors, but hungry people who have no money to offer, but who exchange even wedding rings for food. They know the Russian winter is coming and that they will die if they cannot get shelter and clothing, but they are obliged to give up the necessities of the future to meet the demands of the present.

Many ones, prosperous German families from Maripol and other German centers are among the refugees now living in filth and poverty in crowded dock sheds or have no shelter at all. Miss Anna Haines of Philadelphia, a worker for the Friends Relief Organization, is in Samara and last week said the mortality among children less than three years old is very high and that nearly 90 per cent already are dead.

She told of four persons dying on a station platform in Samara the other night, while they were waiting to be transferred to some other town. Others were lying about and were so helpless that it was difficult to distinguish between the living and the dead.

A committee sent to Russia by the American Near East Relief left Samara last week for Tiflis, after making an investigation. Dr. J. H. Vorles, one of the committee, will go to New York to report on the situation.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL GETS INCREASED AID

Federal and state aid for the Janesville vocational school this year will be increased slightly, in the opinion of Supt. J. M. Dorrans, as several classes for which aid is allowed were added to the curriculum last year and will be continued this year. State aid for the vocational school work here last year amounted to $7,012.25, and federal aid to $17,765. The work for which additional help is allowed as added last year is the class in nursing and the machine shop work. The first installment of the money from the state this year has been received. It amounts to $3,323.23.

FATE OF "PHOENIX" RESTS WITH PUPILS

Whether or not a "Phoenix" is published by the high school this year will be decided by the pupils themselves, according to Principal George A. Bassford. The "Phoenix" published two years ago got the school into considerable financial difficulty due to lack of support. About $300 was due the printing company after the books were sold, which was raised through donations from the various school societies. A book will be published this year only if the proper support is assured. The question of the publication of the "Phoenix" the paper started last year, is also to be decided within the near future.

Here are some of the more prominent persons named by President Harding to discuss the unemployment problem at a conference in Washington. The list includes three women: Elizabeth Christman of Chicago, secretary of the National Woman's Trade Union League; Mary Van Kleeck of New York, director of the Women in Industry Service of the U. S., and Ida M. Tarbell of New York, writer. Other noted figures at the conference will be President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor; Secretary of Labor James J. Davis; President Joseph H.

DeFreese of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; Julius H. Barnes, former president of the U. S. Grain Corporation; Mayor Couzens of Detroit; E. E. Clark, formerly a member of the interstate commerce commission, and John T. Connery, president of the Miami Coal Company of Chicago.

Big Exhibit Is Plan for Dairy Show, Oct. 8-15

St. Paul.—Approximately 1,500 head of blooded cattle, an exhibit of dairy industrial machinery occupying more than 150,000 square feet of floor space, exhibits of milk products from all the principal producing states of the country and foreign nations, lectures by experts on various phases of the industry in the United States, demonstrations of all sorts, and child welfare clinics, are some of the outstanding features of the National Dairy show which will be held at the Minneapolis state fair grounds here Oct. 8 to 15.

Never before in the 15 years of its existence, according to those in charge of the show, has such an array of exhibits been assembled.

The display will point out the evolution of the dairy industry from the simple pail and bucket milking stool to the automatic milker, refrigerating plants, separators and complex creamery machinery.

Student cattle judging, domestic science demonstrations, work of educational associations and activities of the Bull and Calf club also will offer attractions for the expected half million visitors.

The United States government will have a $25,000 educational exhibit at the show, with special days for exhibition of each breed of livestock.

Many counties in northwestern states are planning special "county" days, and are organizing their excursions with a view to these dates.

How Much Do You Need to Get Married On?

All young people have a pretty definite idea of the conditions under which they are willing to marry. They have in mind a minimum income, below which, although marriage might be possible, it is impossible for them. They have determined to their own satisfaction under what conditions a man is justified in proposing to a girl, how the family income should be divided between the husband and wife, whether it is proper for the wife to work or accept financial assistance from the parents, and whether they would prefer to set up housekeeping in the city or the country. There is scarcely a subject in the world upon which young people think so much, or say so little. For marriage is the most important decision in life, and for a person to tell you exactly what he thinks about matrimony is to give you a glimpse into his soul which few of us are willing to permit.

Writes Ralph B. Perry in New York World.

To get two hundred exact answers over eighteen hundred people have been approached. The investigation was conducted in the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. of New York City. This is a uniform and representative group, drawn from all over the United States. They are all young Americans of good education and average position in life.

The minimum, $45.

More than half of these men and women affirm the minimum salary required for marriage is $45 a week. Slightly more than a third of either sex consider this demand too high. It will be enough, they say, if a man has a permanent position, with good prospects of being advanced in the near future to a salary adequate for marriage. Throughout, men have set themselves a slightly higher standard than women demand.

Circumstances today force people to marry comparatively late in life, and they grow older their tastes and judgments of character develop and change. Call love is a personal test, but never forget the love of 15 is a sincere and intense passion, and if we can laugh over it at 20 it is because we have become a totally different individual. Between the age when we desire to become engaged and the age at which we are able to marry there is time and to spare for a sweetheart to lose the qualities which evoked our love, or for us to lose our taste for them.

Nowadays the modern wife simply will not ask for money as a personal favor. In the answers received a few women admitted this system were abnormally feather brained. In one instance mentioned a wife had purchased a $120 victrola outright when her husband's salary was $20 a week, using the entire family savings for the purpose. Most women were unopposed to the plan as a general principle. In fact, only 6 per cent of the men believed in its adoption. Almost as many intend to give the wife their salary untouched, making her solely responsible for the family finances. But this plan is not popular among women.

A Share for Wives.

Ninety per cent of each sex propose to divide the income in a manner which will give both husband and wife a definite, stated share in the disbursements and savings. The most popular plan is the use of the budget, but to follow a budget conscientiously takes all the pleasure out of spending, and about a third hesitate to adopt it. They feel the same end will be served if the wife is given a definite allowance for the household and her own personal use.

A fifth plan is to divide the income on a fifty-fifty basis after paying all household bills. Women favor this to a greater extent than men—23 per cent as against 11. It is on its face the fairest proposition, and its popularity shows the viewpoint from which young people are working out the problem. But it would take a trained accountant with an uncommon amount of common sense to actually run a family on this basis.

Only one man in ten is willing to have his wife work, while one woman in three wants to continue her employment. Only 18 per cent are opposed to this expedient under any conditions, while nearly 40 per cent are in favor of it. A man feels that if his wife works it indicates he is not able to provide for the family alone. Frankly, in most cases it does mean exactly that. But to this the girl answers, "What of it? Isn't it better to marry and be happy in the face of a slight social stigma, rather than waste the best years of our lives through fear of public opinion?"

On proposal and on division of income the traditions of marriage have changed. They have not altered, however. The men do not want the help of their wives in supporting the family. It is the ambition of the girl to make an attractive home. It is her most important duty, and she wishes to devote her entire energy to it. But, if there has been no break in the tradition, nevertheless there has been a change in social opinion. Sixty per cent of the men and 80 per cent of the women in our group can see nothing wrong, nothing improper, if the wife chooses to hold her own job. It is a temporary expedient, adopted because of economic pressure and through no choice, but if the social disapproval to it is removed—which our figures indicate is in process of taking place—we may expect this plan to be followed by an increasing number of young people as long as living costs are higher than salaries.

Parental Aid.

Indeed, there is only one other alternative. People will marry in spite of the most formidable rises in the cost of living, and in the vast majority of cases a man must accept help either from his wife or from his parents. We have seen he is reconciled to assistance from his better half. How does he regard aid from the older people? He doesn't want it. Girl after girl answered this question by saying a man who would accept money from his parents was not a man. He was lacking in backbone. The men responded in the same words, and both, although convinced that any outside aid was bad, agreed that it was a little worse to accept it from the girl's parents than from the man's. Nearly three-quarters were opposed under any consideration. Better postpone the wedding than marry on a father's bounty.

The last question asked was whether the couple would prefer to settle in the city or in the suburbs? In looking at the answer it is important to remember that this is a group of city people—and we find 94 per cent of them intend to escape to the suburbs at the first opportunity. Three reasons were given. A few wished to go because rents and living would be cheaper. A few more, mostly women, favored the country because "it would be better for the children." The majority, however, preferred the suburbs because, as they phrased it, "it was healthier." They used the word in more than a medical sense. Besides the love of green grass and the open they wanted the country for its neighborliness, and the normal, slower life it offers. Here the old tradition of marriage stands fast. We marry primarily to have a home, and not even a woman can make a home of a city flat.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Grand Fall Opening Tomorrow is the Last Day of This Brilliant Exhibition

A Magnificent Authoritative Display of Autumn Fashions. Ingenious New Creations from all parts of the World that found birth in the Minds of the World's Famous Designers are to be seen in every section of this big establishment.

Take any of our 30 Departments. Each affords a greater selection than any other store in Southern Wisconsin, with the added advantage of moderate pricing the equal of which you have not enjoyed for many seasons. You are therefore invited not only to come and look to your heart's content, but we want you to bring your friends so that they may share with you the joy and delight to be experienced by viewing this display of correct styles for Fall and Winter.

Store Open Saturday Evening until 9 O'clock.

TOMMY GIBBONS TO BOX O'DOWD

A new closeup of Tommy Gibbons.

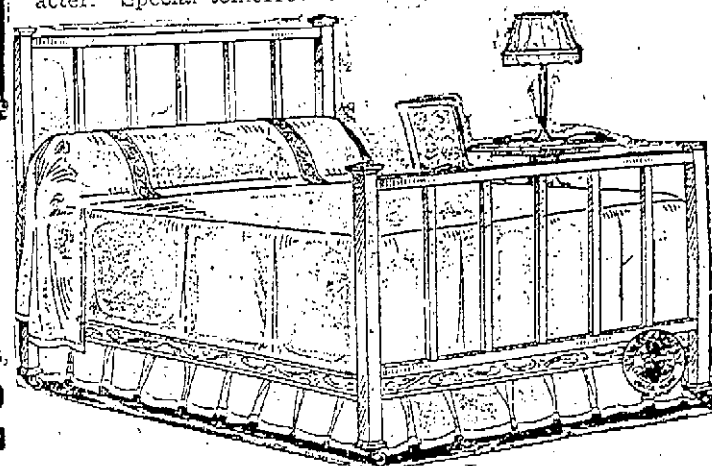

While waiting to find out whether his match with Georges Carpentier is going to materialize or fizzle, Tommy Gibbons is keeping in shape in the arena. He meets Dan O'Dowd, New York heavy, at South Bend, Ind., Labor Day. O'Dowd is the slugger who won notice by his toe-to-toe swatting with Jack Dempsey while Jack was training to meet Bill Brennan last winter.
